

Julian Valle Garcia

Junior Web Developer

Profile

I'm a passionate and determined web developer who is transitioning from a career in psychology to follow my dream to be full time in tech. I am always learning new technologies and seeing how they can help me and the people around me solve problems. I am currently more knowledgeable in the Front End but always pushing myself to learn the Back End as well.

Projects

React Calculator

- Built a small calculator using React.js.
- Really helped me to learn more about React Hooks and the asynchronous nature of state.

My Portfolio

- Mainly where I practice new ways to style and design using CSS.
- Implemented Styled Components, a CSS-In-JS library for cleaner syntax.
- Learned how to implement forms using Netlify

Movie Quote Generator

- Used a quote API to get the data for the app.
- Learned about React life cycle methods to implement the API

Danny Boy Game

- Small game made using jQuery and vanilla JS
- Used DOM manipulation to create gameplay.
- Had some trouble with the timer but solved it once I learned about promises.
